TRAIL PRESIDENTS HERE

Arrive to Discuss Matters Before Meeting of State Roads
Association Tomorrow

Consideration of recommendations to be made to the North Dakota Good Roads convention, which opens here tomorrow, was under way this afternoon by the legislative committee of the association. Among the proposals expected to be made to the association are that it advocate a tax of one cent a gallon on gasoline in lieu of all other gasoline taxes for money to be used for building good highways, a law providing for a non-politically appointed state highway commission and a county-seat-to-county-seat system of highways in the state embracing 5,000 to 7,000 miles.

The association, it was stated by leading officers, will not recommend the submission of an amendment to the constitution providing for a bond issue for highway construction in the near future.

Senator F. W. Mees, of Mandan, chairman of highway body's legislative committee, and A. T. Kraabel, of Clifford, held a conference during the day with E. W. James, of Washington, assistant chief of the Bureau of Good Roads, and L. O. Hathaway, of St. Paul, district engineer of the bureau.

Trail Presidents Here

The executive committee of the Good Roads association is to meet tonight to hear recommendations from the legislative committee and to complete final arrangements for the association's meeting tomorrow.

The convention sessions will be held in Patterson hall, through courtesy of Mr. Patterson, Secretary Holtheim announced.

A number of presidents of various trails and highways were here today to confer with the legislative committee on the matter of trail legislation. Among them were: W. W. Lyness, of Fessenden, president of the North Star Trail; C. E. Danielson, of Minot, Roosevelt highway; H. W. Willis, of Langford, International highway; President Schwartz, of Golden Valley, of the Mandan-Killdeer Mountains trail; A. G. Divet, of Fargo, Meridian highway; H. R. Fretwell, Max, president Missouri Slope Good Roads association; Hugh B. Murphy, Edgely, Sunshine highway; J. J. White, Fargo, National Parks highway.

Commissioners Coming

A number of county commissioners are coming to the meeting, it was stated, indicating their interest in the efforts of the association to promote good roads. A. A. Bradley, of Williston, a state director, and H. F. Dooley, of Williston, secretary of the Commercial Club and secretary-treasurer of the Roosevelt Highway association, were here. T. C. Hutchinson, of Williston, field man for the association, came in today for the meeting.

BURCH JURY TO CONTINUE ITS
DELIBERATIONSForewoman Tells Judge That
She Thinks There is a Chance
For Agreement

Los Angeles, Jan. 16.—Resumption of deliberations here today by the ten women and two men comprising the jury in the trial of Arthur C. Burch, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, found most of the jurors on record as believing a verdict possible.

The jury went out at 3:57 P. M. Friday, and was not received by the court until 8:40 P. M. last night when Judge Sidney N. Reeve, in the presence of Burch and attorneys for the prosecution and defense, asked them how they stood as to number. The foreman, Mrs. Nellie D. Graham, said they were divided ten to two. The judge then asked if there was any chance of agreement. Mrs. Graham and several others said they believed there was. Only one said she thought that agreement was hopeless.

SIOUX COUNTY TO SELL BONDS

Fort Yates, N. D., Jan. 16.—Before adjourning last week the county commissioners reconsidered their tentative acceptance of the bid for the sale of the $75,000 refunding bond issue, and decided to re-advertise for bids to be opened at a special meeting February 1. A new resolution was also passed authorizing such bond issue.

The reason for passing another bonding resolution and re-advertising for bids is due to slight irregularity in the first resolution, which, while not fatal, might have led to future difficulty. In the meanwhile the bond market is growing more and more active, so there may be a larger number of bids next month from which to select.

Throughout

The beautiful new motion picture theater, The Capitol, will open tonight. Manager Wingreene has obtained for the opening the remarkable Paramount picture, "The Inside of the Cup," a dramatization of Winston Churchill's famous novel. The picture is personally directed by Albert Capellani.

The Capitol, remodeled from the former Orpheum, seats about 400 persons. The interior was completely remodeled, objectionable posts being removed, a new, high steel ceiling put in, new opera chairs with leather seats installed, a cement floor laid and complete new decorations added. Workmen were busy all day Sunday and today putting on the finishing touches to the beautiful new theater.

There are three sections of seats, the center and a right and left section. There is a stage where Vaudeville may be presented and an organ has been installed in the orchestra pit. Two wide exits are provided at the rear although the theater is of fireproof construction.

One enters the theater through a new lobby, on which has been laid a tile floor. There is a small foyer behind the ticket office. The ceiling is white with the walls are decorated in a soft gray finish. Indirect lighting is used, with side-lights shaded with pink shades.

A Beautiful Theater

The remodeling of the theater, which was done at great expense, has transformed the old Orpheum theater into a beautiful new theater, modern in every respect.

BUYS IN FIRM
AT SHIELDS

Shields, N. D., Jan. 16.—A new business deal was consummated whereby C. H. Meyer purchased the interest of L. E. Robinson in the Shields Mercantile Co.

Mr. Meyer has been connected with the Mercantile Co. for a number of years.

The retiring partner, L. E. Robinson, is one of the best known men in this part of the state. He is industrious and precise and was at all times interested in the welfare of Shields and surrounding country. Besides being connected with the Mercantile Co. he has operated a fine ranch on the reservation, 15 miles south of town. As to the future his plans are indefinite.

TURN OFF TOWN
LIGHTS TO SAVE

Beach, N. D., Jan. 16.—At the regular meeting of the city council the unpleasantness between the council and the light company arose over the insistence of the latter in covering for street lights on municipal lights. In spite of the state commission's order to cut out the horse play, and as usual, the council refused to pay for this useless lamp.

In view of the increased rate established by the state commission to street lights in this city, and the further fact that the promise for such lights will not permit the old schedule of time for lights to burn, the city auditor was instructed to direct the light company to turn street lights on at 5:30 p. m. and off at 10:30, and not to turn them on at all on moonlight nights.

IN UNIVERSITY
41 YEARS, STILL
TAKING DEGREES

New York, Jan. 16.—Forty-one years ago William Cullen Bryant Kemp became a student at Columbia university. Today he is still a student and hasn't missed a semester.

Having studied everything worth while and exhausted all of the "degrees," Student Kemp, who is over 50 years old, is spending his time this year "curling all about the paleographic developments of North America."

He has many degrees including "P. H. D." (Doctor of perpetual motion) conferred by his fellow students.

Some say that William wouldn't study when a boy so that a wise uncle left a will providing for him as long as he was a regularly enrolled university student.

Student Kemp won't talk, only to say, "The more you learn the more you know."

There will be no extension of railroads in North Dakota during 1922, according to information given by the railroads to Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor J. A. Kitchen. In correcting a state map issued by the department preparatory to issuing a new map the commissioner wrote to heads of railroads having lines in North Dakota and asked them if there would be any new lines or extensions built this year. They replied that there would not be any new rails laid under present railroad conditions this year.

PLANS PLANTING OF MUCH CORN

Kidder, N. D., Jan. 16.—James Vaughn has secured the necessary machinery for planting forty acres of corn this spring. Mr. Vaughn has been well satisfied with the returns from his chickens and cows during the past few years, and is just going to give them a better chance than ever to swell his bank roll. The time is almost here when corn fields from 10 to 100 acres will be more numerous than wheat fields and hens and hogs and milk cows will keep the corn coming in all the year round without fear of hail drought, grasshoppers or rust.

Hail Warrants Discount Rate
Cut, Administration Turns to Aid School Districts

The power of the state administration, which was exerted with favorable results in obtaining a better market for hail insurance warrants, has been turned to the aid of school districts of the state and other subdivisions in disposing of their securities to out-of-state investors.

Visited by representatives of several bond houses and financial concerns in connection with the hail warrant matter, Governor Nestos has utilized the opportunity to impress upon the financial men that favorable opportunities for investment are offered by many school districts of the state who have been unable to market securities or who have been forced to market them at an extraordinarily high rate. In endeavoring to make good the campaign pledge to "redeem the credit of the state" the Governor and other members of the administration have coupled the state-wide campaign for economy in governmental affairs with a presentation of facts regarding the fundamental solidity of the state to outside investors.

Because many school districts have had to wait too long to obtain funds from the board of university and school lands or have had difficulty in marketing securities in the open market, Governor Nestos has given especial attention to aiding the school districts.

Says State is Sound.

"I feel that North Dakota is an exceptionally safe place for investment at this time on account of the fact that the state is so fundamentally sound and that even though temporary soundness there is no state in the union that will come back faster and that those who buy bonds or warrants need have no fear but that they will prove one of the best investments in their possession," the Governor said today.

"I have emphasized this idea in my talks with representatives of various financial concerns especially with reference to the school districts of the state."

Among the financial representatives who have come to North Dakota in the last week to make inquiries concerning possibility of investing money in the state and have sought conference with the Governor are representatives of three large Twin City bond houses, representatives of Minneapolis and St. Paul trust company and one representative of an eastern concern.

The administration has called upon the financial concerns investigating the matter of buying hail warrants in big lots to submit propositions. Governor Nestos said today that he expected to have these propositions in writing by the end of the week. While one eastern concern has asked that certain points be settled in a suit which is to go to the supreme court, there are other concerns who will have their own lawyers investigate the legal status of the warrants and are expected to seek the business without waiting for the supreme court opinion.

Discounts are Cut.

Several weeks ago a circular issued by a company in which a former leader of the nonpartisan league is interested was sent to the Governor with complaint that the firm was trying to buy hail warrants at a 20 per cent discount. It appears that the firm had circularized the entire state, and apparently had obtained the names of persons to whom hail warrants were issued either from the state hail insurance department or the state auditor's office. Since the Governor began negotiations for the sale of warrants in bloc this company has been reducing the discount at which it will buy warrants until the company, or an affiliated concern, offers to buy them at 5 per cent discount.

Another firm which offered to buy the warrants at first at 10 per cent discount and cut the rate of discount to 8 per cent last week now is offering to buy warrants issued to persons whose names begin with "A" or "B"—the first on the list—at 5 1/2 per cent off and all others at 6 1/2 per cent off. Another Minneapolis firm is said to be offering to buy warrants at a straight 5 per cent discount compared to an offer of 10 per cent a few weeks ago.

Governor Nestos is well pleased with the results of the campaign to obtain a better sale for the warrants.

STILL TRYING

TO TRY "FATTY"

San Francisco, Calif., Jan. 16.—The second week of the second trial of "Fatty" Arbuckle, "moo" comedian, accused of manslaughter growing out of the death of a hotel party here last September of Miss Virginia Rapp, opened in superior court today. Completion of the jury was expected before the end of the day. Eleven prospective jurors—two women and nine men—having been temporarily accepted.

Fort Yates, N. D., Jan. 16.—T. Wright, a farmer living near Solen, received $71.11 from the sale of turkeys, more than he has realized on his wheat crop in three years. He sold 150 birds at an average price of $4.75 each.

WORK ON SUPER-STRUCTURE OF NEW
MISSOURI BRIDGE NEAR COMPLETIONWork on the Missouri river vehicular bridge is rapidly nearing completion, according to representatives of the state highway commission. Workers on the bridge already are looking forward to the driving of the last of something like 30,000 rivets in the big steel structure.

Forty-five men are driving forward to completion the steel super-structure. It is expected that within four weeks the last rivet will have been driven, which will complete the major portion of the bridge job proper.

There will remain the work of painting the bridge which, it is understood, the contracting company has already sub-let and the laying of the asphalt roadway which cannot be commenced until spring brings mild enough weather to permit. With the laying of the asphalt and the putting in of a temporary fill on the west side the bridge will be ready for traffic.

Materials and machinery of the bridge company probably will be shipped away soon. It is understood the company sold the great amount of timber used in temporary false work to a mining company in northern Minnesota and that 35 to 40 carloads of lumber will be shipped here.

E. W. James, of Washington, and E. O. Hathaway, of St. Paul, engineers of the United States Bureau of Roads, were in Bismarck today in connection with bridge matters and to attend the good roads meeting. It was expected they would meet with the highway commission and representatives of Morton county on the matter of a roadway on the west side of the bridge.

Relatives of Many ex-Service Men Mentally Disabled Refuse Government Care

Washington, Jan. 16.—Asserting that the more than 3,500 mentally disabled former service men now placed in state institutions were "victims of such gross neglect, indifference and profiteering as constituted a black reproach on the honor of the nation," the disabled American Veterans of the World War, in a memorial presented today to President Harding, urged immediate action by the government looking to the treatment of all such cases in federal institutions. Neglect of these cases in state institutions, the memorial said, is committing to permanent insanity many of the victims who by timely treatment probably could be cured.

Describing the condition of the "contract" cases of this class in the institution of the state of Ohio as "typical of those in practically every state," the memorial asserted the government had "farmed out" the insane ex-service men of Ohio to state asylums which are notoriously overcrowded, under-manned and inadequately equipped to treat and care for them, while it has not provided one central institution for this purpose in the United States.

Relatives Object

In hundreds of cases, it was asserted, relatives are refusing to permit mentally disabled veterans who might be restored to useful citizenship to conditions in the "contract" asylums, most of which the memorial said, are "nothing more than lockups."

To make adequate provisions for the treatment of all mental cases in federal institutions, the organization urged that the president use his influence in securing early action by congress on the pending measure to appropriate $16,000,000 for this purpose.

BRIDGE TO AID
TRAVEL THROUGH
HERE, PREDICTEDGovernment Engineer Believes
Missouri River Bridge Will Attract Traffic

Prediction of increased travel through North Dakota with the completion of the new vehicular bridge over the Missouri river was made here today by E. W. James, government engineer, in the city to attend the state good roads convention.

The bridge will offer the only "dry crossing" of the Missouri in North Dakota, Mr. James said. "Of all the northern routes there doesn't seem to be anything left but the road through Bismarck for people who want to travel across the country north of Omaha."

"It is a project much bigger than local county interest—if it were not bigger the government wouldn't participate in its building," said Mr. James. The government has, he said, been glad to participate in the project because of its importance to a large territory and to trans-continental automobile traffic.

Because of the fact that the project is of such great importance, the government felt it reasonable to request support of the state government in the matter, he said.

Recently there was begun agitation for the construction of a bridge across the Missouri at Yankton, S. D. This, Mr. James said, is to be a toll bridge, and therefore, the government will participate only in a project which is free to the use of the entire public, he said.

"Just a moment and I'll show you."

He stopped as if to open the case, but whipped a pistol from a pocket and fired, the bullet striking Anderson in the hip. As the patrolman fell the man shot three times, none of the bullets taking effect. Anderson fired at the men as they fled but they escaped.

Settlement of Questions in China
To Become Uppermost in Conference

Washington, Jan. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The armament conference entered another week today, which was expected to see the naval program wiped off the slate and the Shantung issue, if not finally settled, at least so far advanced toward that point to permit the delegates to direct their attention undividedly to settlement of the remaining issues in the Far East.

The Chinese and Japanese delegates continued today their efforts to dispose of the collateral questions in the Shantung negotiations while awaiting fresh instructions from Peking and Tokyo bearing on the compromise proposal for settlement of the central issue involving the conditions for restoration to China of the Tsingtao-Tainanfu railroad.

Completion of the naval litigation treaty in the meantime still awaited formal approval by Tokyo of the articles dealing with specific fortifications which was expected in time to permit approval of the pact by the full naval committee and its announcement at a previous session of the conference before the end of the week.

The delegations of the nine powers participating in the discussions of these questions were called to meet at 2:30 o'clock in the first session to be held by that portion of the conference since January 5.

Prior to that meeting the heads of the delegations of the five naval powers held another session and the American delegation met.

TEXT IS RECEIVED

Washington, Jan. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The text of the agreement reached by the Chinese and Japanese delegates Saturday concerning the surrender by Japan of the Kaio-chow leasehold to China was formally accepted by the two delegations today when the Shantung conversations were resumed.

Fargo Hotel Murder Case on Calendar to be Called For Trial There Tuesday

HAGEN TO BE WITNESS

Valley City, N. D., Jan. 16.—Preparations are under way here for the trial of William Gummer, charged with the murder of Miss Marie Wick in a Fargo hotel, which is expected to open in the Barnes district court here tomorrow.

Among the state's witnesses will be H. J. Hagen, former president of the Scandinavian-American bank, who occupied the room adjoining that in which Miss Wick was killed, during a part of the night of her death. Mr. Hagen is said to be on his way to Valley City from Seattle, Wash.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 16.—The slaying of Marie Wick at a hotel here in June 1921, for which William Gummer, the hotel clerk, is to be tried at Valley City, Jan. 17, created a sensation in the northwest and city and county officials characterized the crime as one of the most brutal ever committed in this section.

The body of Miss Wick, who was 18 years old, was found in Room No. 20 of the Prescott Hotel about 7 a. m. on June 7 after she had registered at the hotel the previous night. She was on her way to Pettibone, N. D., from her home in Grygla, Minn., to spend a vacation with an aunt and had stopped in Fargo to make train connections. Gagged with parts of the bed clothing and trussed to the bed with blood soaked pillow cases, investigation showed that the girl had been attacked before being beaten to death with the nozzle of a fire hose. She had been dead from four to six hours, according to Dr. P. H. Burton, county physician, who made the examination.

Authorities immediately plunged into the work of attempting to find the slayer who apparently left no clues, and after eight days of investigation, Gummer was arrested June 15 on a charge of murder in the first degree on complaint of William Green, state's attorney for Cass county.

is 22 Years Old

Gummer, who is 22 years old and the son of a farmer living near Mayville, N. D., strongly maintained his innocence, but after the state at a preliminary hearing had submitted what was termed "incriminating evidence" he was ordered bound over to the Cass county district court for trial in November.

When his case came up at the November term of county court, Gummer through his attorneys, asked for a change in venue, claiming that prejudice against the crime was so great in Fargo that selection of an impartial jury would be virtually impossible. He was granted the change by Judge C. H. Cooley of Grand Forks, presiding in the county district court and the case ordered transferred to the Barnes county district court at Valley City to be heard during the January term.

The case was expected to be the first heard from the Barnes county docket early in January.

The hotel clerk's preliminary hearing began June 28 after having been postponed from June 21 at the request of the state, and ended after four days when he was ordered bound over for trial before a coroners verdict was returned holding him responsible for the slain girl's death.

Coroner's Jury Verdict

The verdict rendered by the coroners jury, withheld until after the preliminary examination, was that "Marie Wick came to her death on the seventh day of June, 1921, in Room No. 20 in the Prescott Hotel in Fargo, N. D., by reason of having been choked, strangled and struck upon the head with a fire hose nozzle; that her killing was felonious and was committed by William Gummer, according to evidence presented and to the best of our knowledge."

At the time Coroner E. F. Moore said the verdict, which was returned July 2, after Gummer was bound over for trial, had been previously reached but it was thought advisable not to make it known until after the hearing Gummer's preliminary hearing, which, according to officials, was to prove that there was probable cause to believe he had committed the murder ended July 2 without the hotel clerk taking the stand.

Claim Admissions

At the hearing State's attorney Green introduced a statement which he alleged Gummer made to him admitting that he had visited the girl's room about 6:30 on the morning of June 7, a half hour before any one else knew of the crime. Gummer said that Miss Wick had left a call for a room with a key only after he had failed to receive a response to repeated telephone calls. Shocked

PREDICT FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF EQUITY PLANT

Showdown is Expected at Meeting to be Held in Fargo Next Week to Consider Plant

CASEY IS SEEKING LOAN

Fargo, Jan. 14.—An open fight for control of the Equity Cooperative Packing company and the discussion of a proposed change in the constitution of the Equity Cooperative exchange by which the present proxy system would be abolished and a delegate system provided in place of it will be the big features of the annual meetings of these two corporations, both of which will be held in Fargo on January 17.

The fight for control of the Equity Cooperative Packing company is a continuation of a controversy between two opposing factions of stockholders which was begun at the annual meeting last year. One faction, headed by C. W. Reichert is seeking to oust from control the present board of directors, headed by President P. M. Casey.

The Reichert faction is appealing to stockholders of the packing company to send in proxies. It is the contention of this faction that the entire present board of directors has signed a stipulation to resign and that therefore an entire new board is to be elected at the meeting. It is further contended that unless there are 500 stockholders present at the meeting, either in person or proxy, that there will be a legal election under the by-laws and that therefore the present board will automatically hold over.

Present Directors
The present board of directors of the packing company consists of the following: P. M. Casey, J. C. Leum, Mayville; H. P. Beckwith, Fargo; J. C. Bergin, Hendrum, Minn.; Wm. Olson, Valley City; Anthony Walton, Minn.; Louis Altenbernd, Sabin; A. E. Wailey, Velva; C. D. King, Menoken.

Casey in Washington
P. M. Casey is in Washington conferring with the War Finance corporation regarding the possibility of getting funds for the packing plant through the corporation. No information regarding his side of the controversy has been made public.

An angle of the packing plant situation which will be up for solution at the coming meeting of stockholders, is the judgment against the company, held by Louis Altenbernd, one of the directors, for $56,000, and a court order for the sale of the 24 houses and the store belonging to the company at West Fargo, where the packing plant is located, to satisfy this judgment. This sale, originally set for early in December, has been postponed by stipulation from time to time and is now set for January 27. Mr. Altenbernd recently secured another judgment against the company for $4,000 additional, and it is reported that other claims have been or will be filed in a short time.

Plan to Abolish Proxy
The Equity Cooperative exchange, of which J. M. Anderson is president, will vote on amendments to the constitution and by-laws which would wipe out the present system of voting by proxy at the annual meetings, and would give the board of directors authority to group the stockholders in local units. These local units would then be entitled to elect delegates to attend the annual meetings. A second amendment provides that 15 per cent of the stockholders, represented in person or delegate, shall constitute a quorum. At present a majority of the 22,000 members must be present, in person or by proxy, to constitute a quorum. A third amendment would provide for changes in the constitution by majority vote, rather than by two-thirds vote.

Cadillac Announces Reduction Of Prices

New Figures Take Effect Now On All Type 61 Models

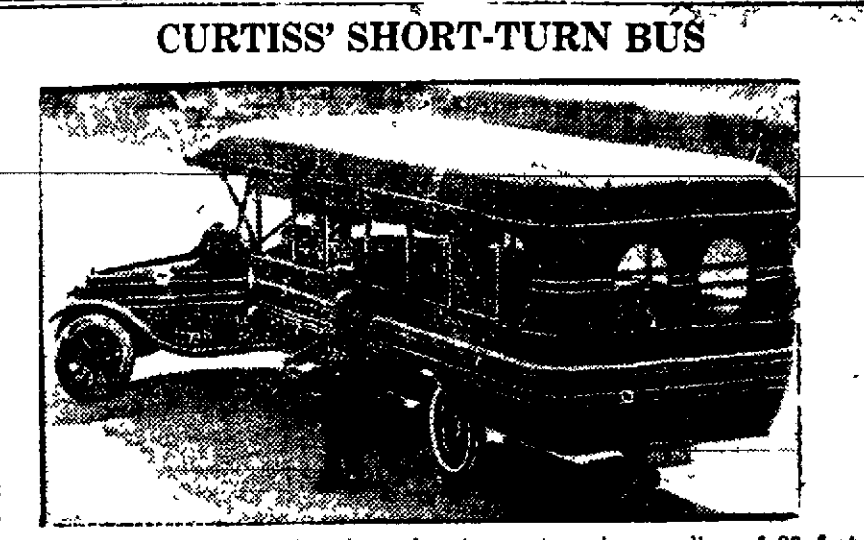

Substantial price reductions have been announced by the Cadillac Motor Car Company, of Detroit, on all ten models of the Type 61 Cadillac motor cars. The reduction on the Touring Car is $790, and on the Suburban $940.

In reviewing the conditions underlying this announcement, C. Bertsch, Jr., of the Bismarck Motor Co., agents for the Cadillac car, made the following statement:
"The Cadillac Co. has during the latter part of this year successfully completed the task of bringing together practically all of the largest manufacturing units into what we believe is the most modern and scientifically arranged automobile plant in the world for the manufacture of a high grade car. In this new factory we have taken advantage of every opportunity to systematize the various manufacturing operations that go into the making of the Cadillac automobile and the resulting economies have helped to make possible this reduction in our price without decreasing in any way the quality of our product.

"We are passing all of these savings on to purchasers of Cadillac automobiles together with such additional savings as, in common with all other manufacturers, we have secured from the lower markets for raw materials of all kinds. The lowered prices, we believe set an entirely new standard of motor car value."

SEEK FRIENDS IN HOUR OF NEED

"In the hour of need we quickly seek our best friends," writes Chas. Schredd Ward de Wet, 957 37th Ave., Oakland, Cal. "Our little boy and girl had a very dry, rasping cough without phlegm a cough that choked and flushed the face of the sufferers like unto convulsions. Foley's Honey and Tar was a wonderful emergency remedy." Cases like this give Foley's Honey and Tar its reputation as the best remedy for coughs and colds.

CONFESSES HE SLEW FARMER, BURNED BODY

Wisconsin Man Transported Body Considerable Distance to Haystack

Madison, Wis., Jan. 14.—Hartwell Farewell, held in connection with the death of Philip Houston, Windsor man, found in a burning haystack near Portage Thursday night, admitted in a statement signed this afternoon before Sheriff McCormick that he slew Houston January 12.

Farewell, farmer of Vienna, Wisconsin, according to the alleged statement, said he shot Houston near the former's home in Vienna. Eventually the body was taken to Columbia and placed in a haystack which was set on fire.

Farewell declared in the statement that the shooting was in self-defense and that he was mentally irresponsible at the time. He was alleged to have declared that the shooting resulted from attentions paid to his sister by Houston, of which, he asserted, he disapproved.

PHOTOCAR FOR NEWS SERVICE

Photographers Build Huge Camera on Dodge Brothers Chassis

To get the maximum of speed in taking photographs of news events and developing the negatives, progressive photographers of Atlantic City, N. J., have constructed on a Dodge Brothers chassis a special body in the form of a giant graflex camera.

The interior of the body is ingeniously arranged so that a man can climb up a ladder-like arrangement bringing him to a height of ten feet from the ground and giving him a commanding view of any events which may be taking place. The body is also used as a dark room in which negatives may be developed and finished, guaranteeing speedy service, which would otherwise be impossible.

The "graflex wagon," or photocar, as it is variously called, is the very latest thing in rapid newspaper photography. It is significant that for speed and reliability—which are so vital in this game—Dodge Brothers chassis was chosen to furnish the power.

GREAT NOVEL BY CHURCHILL IS SCREENED

"The Inside of the Cup" Which Created a Storm To Be Shown Here

Every reader of current literature will recall the sensation caused by the publication several years ago of Winston Churchill's powerful novel, "The Inside of the Cup." The story attacked the alleged hypocrisy of certain clergymen and men of wealth identified with churches as vestrymen. The philosophy of the book was criticized by churchmen in this country and in England as an unwarranted attack upon religion and the cloth.

The picture rights having been obtained by the Cosmopolitan at great expense, the story was pictured by Albert Capellani, a famous director and the film version will be shown at the Capitol Theater next Monday. The essential features of the story, which is one of great dramatic force, have been retained while the anti-hypocrisy philosophy of the author necessarily has been subordinated to the general theme.

The story deals with the Rector of a fashionable church who turns upon his wealthy parishioners when he discovers them parading under a mask of hypocrisy and invites the common people to attend his church. Eldon Parr, a vestryman, unscrupulous and tyrannical, alienates his son and daughter and is finally killed by a man whom he has ruined. There is a pretty love romance between the Rector and Parr's daughter, which ends happily. The leading roles are played by William P. Carleton and Edith Hallor.

FAIR PREMIUM FUND OVERDRAWN

A knotty problem has been brought before Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor J. A. Kitchen in connection with the state appropriation for premiums at the North Dakota state fair at Grand Forks.

The legislative appropriation to the fair association is $10,000. Former Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor J. N. Hagan had approved bills for premiums amounting to $11,110.62, according to Mr. Kitchen. Since it has been discovered that the appropriation was not sufficient to meet the total awards Mr. Kitchen feels it will be necessary to strike some of the items from the list of awards for which payment is made.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The senate judiciary sub-committee which has before it the matter of protests against the confirmation of the appointment of Andrew Miller, of Bismarck, as federal judge, has given the representatives of the protestants until next Monday to file an abstract of testimony taken or offered in the case.

USED GROWERS TO AID EQUITY IS CHARGE MADE

U. S. Grain Growers Inc. Give Out Reasons for "Suspension" of J. M. Anderson

ANDERSON MAKES REPLY

Minneapolis, Jan. 16.—That the name of the U. S. Grain Growers and its stationery have been used without authority to promote a one year pool handled by the Equity Co-operative Exchange, and that J. M. Anderson has failed to meet with the directors of the U. S. Grain Growers to make a full statement of business already transacted in the name of that corporation, are among the reasons given in an official statement by the executive officers, made in Chicago for Anderson's suspension as first vice-president and chairman of the sales committee of the U. S. Grain Growers, and for withdrawal of his authority to act as northwest selling agent for the U. S. Grain Growers.

Mr. Anderson a few days ago announced his resignation as director of the U. S. Grain Growers, but the board refused to accept his resignation and he still is a director. He is to give his side of the controversy at the Tri-State Grain Growers' meeting in Fargo, Jan. 17.

Equity Plan Dropped.

Mr. Anderson is president of the Equity Co-operative Exchange. The statement given out by Secretary Frank M. Myers said that the U. S. Grain Growers had desired to use the Equity as its agent in the northwest, but that this plan fell through when Mr. Anderson insisted on exclusive sales rights for the markets of Minneapolis, Duluth and Superior.

"The U. S. Grain Growers," said Mr. Myers, "could not enter into any such arrangement, for it would have closed the doors to farmers in Minnesota, where 10 years of education have not convinced them that the Equity is the solution of their grain marketing problems. The committee of 17 is not committed to the signing away of exclusive rights to any single agency."

Anderson's Reply.

Mr. Anderson, in a statement issued in Fargo Saturday night, explained at length his reasons for resigning. He said he resigned long before the "suspension."

In his statement he said that the U. S. Grain Growers Inc. had been diverted from its original purpose of cooperating with existing farmers' marketing agencies and had tried to function alone and to the detriment of existing agencies. He said he was greatly disappointed in the U. S. Grain Growers Inc. movement. He said in part:

"To say the movement has been a disappointment to me and to the farmers who were entitled to expect different results is to express the matter mildly. First, there were long, unnecessary, warring delays, then futile conferences, and finally more petty bickerings that were beneath the dignity of such an organization as we were assuming to build, and wholly out of line with what was to be expected from such a body of men. It is needless to recite details, which are more or less well known to all informed observers, and yet it is these evidences of dependable action, together with the practical abandonment of our fundamental plan that makes it impossible for me longer to hope for success."

Mr. Anderson declared a national cooperative selling agency was possible if carried out on proper lines.

BEAUTIFUL NEW MOVIE TO OPEN HERE TONIGHT

Mr. Winkler announces that the best pictures obtainable will be shown, and he is especially pleased to be able to get the Cosmopolitan production for the opening of the theater.

The picture has added to the worldwide discussion of the famous novel of Winston Churchill, which attracted so much attention because of its criticism of so-called hypocrisy of the church.

Why it was produced.

Albert Capellani, the director, stated his reasons for producing the picture as follows:

"I selected Winston Churchill's novel 'The Inside of the Cup' for adaptation to the screen for the following reasons:

"The strength of the theme, which is that of practical Christianity.

"The theme is developed in a strong dramatic story which lends itself admirably to the screen.

"The story tells the absolute truth and the power of truth, in book or on screen, cannot be denied.

pressed tersely and eloquently, proves excellent material for the screen.

"The story deals with real people whom all alike will understand. It fairly teems with little human touches and spectacular incidents which lend attractiveness and value to motion pictures of the highest class.

"The doctrine of the helping hand which 'The Inside of the Cup' splendidly expounds, is one that has universal appeal and the picturization of such a story cannot fail to inspire belief in the theory of the Brotherhood of Man as one of the great salutary forces for good in our modern civilization.

"It is a soul-stirring picture story."

OPPOSES CLASS MEMBERSHIP ON RESERVE BOARD

Advisory Council Says Bill To Require Farmer Member Would Amount to This

KELLOGG BILL 'ALL RIGHT'

Washington, Jan. 16.—The federal advisory council of the federal reserve system representing all the districts in the United States presented to President Harding at the White House a memorial which it had unanimously adopted opposing the Smith bill compelling the president to appoint a farmer to the federal reserve board as a measure sure to precipitate the federal reserve system into politics. The council points out that the precedent proposed to be established would undoubtedly lead to similar representation by organized labor, cotton interests, merchants and manufacturers, or any other special interest or group, and that its objection is not the proposal to put a farmer on the board but to the principle of giving any special class special representation. The council indorses the Kellogg bill as unobjectionable. The Kellogg bill does not make it mandatory upon the president to appoint a farmer, but directs that in making appointments to the federal reserve board, the president shall give due consideration to the agricultural interests of the country. In its memorial the council says in part:

"If the law should be amended so as to obligate you to put a farmer on the board, one might ask in that case why should not labor insist that it as a class should also be represented, and why should not similar claims be made by merchants, manufacturers, exporters or any other special interest or group. Indeed two other bills of this nature have already been introduced. That it might or might not be desirable to put a farmer on the board is not the question—the wrong is in requiring as a matter of law, that one special interest shall always be represented on the board.

Evidence of the widespread interest attracted by the case was found in several instances while Gummer awaited trial.

On July 27 a girl giving her name as Ester Folden, 20, of Rolla, Minn., was found in a Fargo hotel, disrobed, gagged and tied loosely to the bed posts. She told the police that a man had entered her room and attacked her, but after questioning admitted that she had been reading of the Wick case and had tied herself to the bed. She was released.

Several weeks later a 20 year old girl from Grand Forks was reported to have spent two nights in the railroad station at Breckenridge waiting for a train rather than register at a hotel because of fears superinduced by reading accounts of the tragedy.

FOREIGNERS IN BERLIN LEARN A FEW THINGS

Many Taxes Are Charged Against Patrons of Hotels and Restaurants

"TIPS" ARE ALSO EXPECTED

Berlin, Jan. 16.—Foreigners sojourning in Berlin have learned that "prices go up, but never come down," regardless of the rise or fall of the German mark. Visitors here, compelled to live in the first class hotels, may secure rooms at prices which they consider reasonable compared with home prices, but the illusion of "cheapness" soon vanishes.

At least once a month prices are increased, and the usual increase is 100 per cent. The notice of increase is sent the day before the new rates are effective. There is no recourse but to pay. The only furnished rooms or apartments to be had are in the suburbs, and are impracticable because of the frequent strikes on the transportation lines.

Disadvantages of living in second class hotels, in addition to the absence of modern conveniences, are multiplied by the restlessness of the workers. Hardly a week passes without a strike of electric workers, porters, cooks, maids—in which case the hotels, as well as the office buildings in which the foreigners must work, are dark and without service.

Many Many Strikes. Within the last three months there have been strikes on the underground and surface railways, in the electric power plants, of all the employees in restaurants, the chauffeurs, as well as workmen in such trades as tailoring, printing and other lines. The last strike was called by the janitors of apartment and office buildings which were left without heat during the coldest days of the winter.

And to every bill which the patrons of the hotels and restaurants must pay there is added a diversity of taxes or surcharges for the state, the city, or the help. Also, tips are still expected and received, although hotel and restaurant employees recently consented to abolish the tip when granted a ten per cent commission on all bills, an increase in wages, and a percentage of the weekly incomes of their employers.

MORE STRINGENT GAME LAWS FOR SOUTHDAKOTA

Huron, S. D., Jan. 16.—More stringent game laws for South Dakota were urged by speakers at the meeting of the South Dakota Game and Fish Protective association here last week. A closed season on prairie chickens was recommended by W. H. Over, curator of the museum of the University of South Dakota, who emphasized the value of game birds as insect eradicators, and urged that every means be taken to prevent their extinction.

The buck law was heartily endorsed by State Game Warden H. S. Hedrick, who said that last year only 167 bucks were killed in South Dakota, as compared with 450 bucks and does bagged two years ago. He also said that a closed season on muskrats would be necessary if the fur-bearers were not to be rendered extinct in the state. A ten day open season was recommended, instead of the all winter open season now permitted.

Farmers and hunters were urged not to be allowed dogs to run loose, as they were said to be the worst enemies of game birds and small game animals.

The rapid increase in the number of pheasants, a species of game bird not native to this state, but which has been successfully imported, was favorably commented upon. Mr. Hedrick estimated that, in spite of the fact that more than 3,000 cock pheasants were taken this year in Spink county, that there were more of these birds still there than there have ever been of prairie chickens and grouse combined.

The meeting also decided to urge that the minimum legal length for pike caught in South Dakota waters, be increased to 12 or 14 inches, as the taking of thousands of small pike recently has almost eliminated the big fellows.

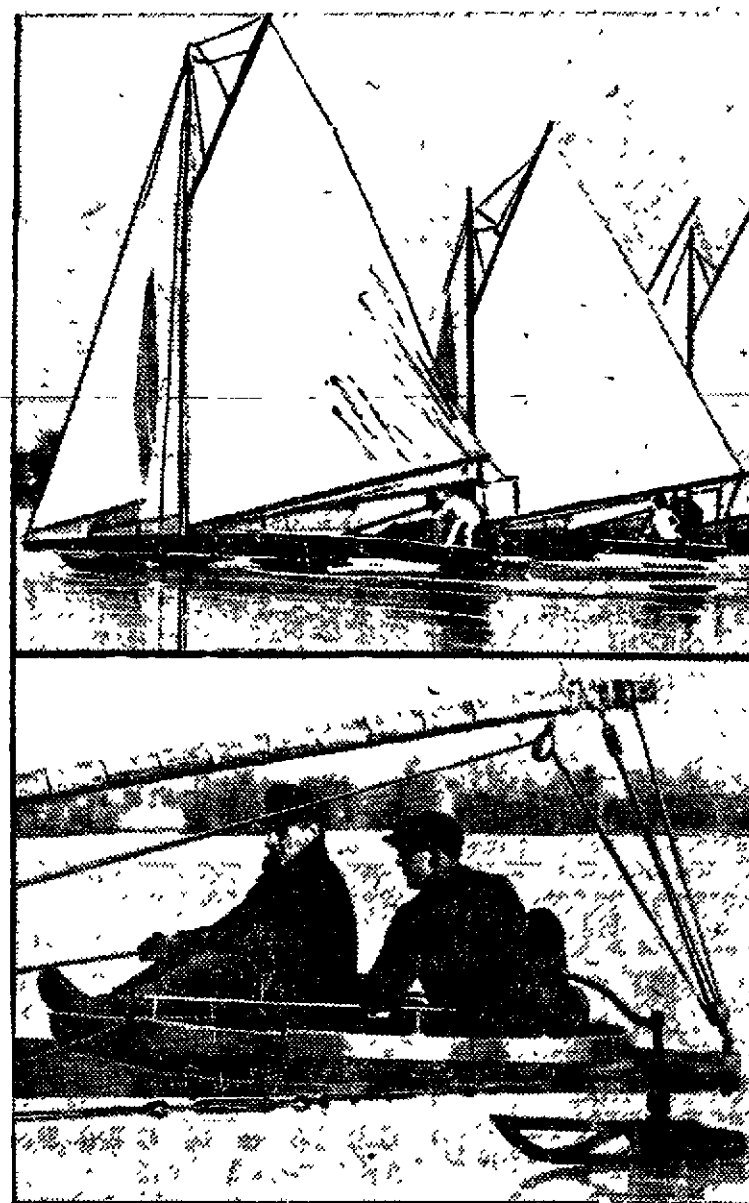

"Death Watch" Beetles Gassed By Britishers

London, Jan. 16.—The "death watch" beetle is being fought with poison gas in the ancient Westminster hall, the scene of many memorable events in British history.

The famous beamed roof of carved oak, dating from the year 1399, was discovered some time ago to be seriously menaced by the borings of wood beetles which had been breeding there for centuries.

The first gas that was experimented with to kill the beetles nearly proved

THE "GET THERE" GETS THERE

The "Get There," manipulated by Henry Applegate and Reuben, White, is sweeping everything before it in the early races of the ice yacht regatta on the Shrewsbury River, Red Bank, N. J. The pictures show the "Get There" and her pilots at the start of the latest race.

NEW "PEACE DOLLAR WON'T STACK," BANKERS HERE FIND AFTER TRYOUT

The peace dollar won't "stack." Local bankers are finding cause for complaint in the latest silver dollar issued from the government mint at Philadelphia. It may not bother the average man so much, but the bankers find that the edges are not of uniform thickness and that when 20 peace dollars are stacked on top of each other there is a pile resembling the leaning tower of Pisa, if the stack doesn't fall.

This defect, it is said, may exist only in the first lot coined. Local banks have received just a few of the dollars from the reserve centers. The coin probably will be in general circulation in the near future.

The design of the new coin was recently shown to President Harding by Raymond T. Baker, of the mint. It is said to have met with the president's heartiest approval. It had previously been approved by Mr. Baker and Secretary Mellon.

fatal to the cleaners. Then another chemical was tried and this, it is claimed, will make the historic edifice safe for another six or seven centuries.

As this gas is heavier than air, it penetrates in to the lobbies of the adjacent House of Commons, and it can therefore only be used when parliament is not sitting.

Germany Dumping Goods Into Sweden, The Latter Objects

Stockholm, Jan. 16.—Swedish government agencies are trying desperately to find some methods to stop the dumping of German goods in Swedish markets.

There has been an enormous importation from Germany, at prices which "Swedish manufacturers have been unable to meet owing to the fact that the German workers were paid in depreciated currency.

One of the methods suggested for reducing this German competition was that special import duties be imposed upon goods coming from countries with depreciated currency. A special tariff commission investigated this subject but advised against the adoption of such a measure.

The commission, however, recommended that the Riksdag pass a bill enabling the government to adopt protective measures against dumping by means of depreciated currency, provided that these measures be approved by an international agreement.

Dancer And Handy Man To Be Married

Moscow, Jan. 16.—Irma Duncan, the 20-year old and adopted daughter of Isadora Duncan, dancer, has announced her engagement to Ilya Ilyich Snelder, the son of a tailor. Young Snelder by chance met Isadora Duncan and her party on arrival here last Dies for the new dollar was cast in Philadelphia, where dies for all coins are made. Coinage began December 28. They will be made exclusively at the Philadelphia mint for a month, after which their production will be taken up in other mints. It is planned to coin between 700,000 and 800,000 this year.

The new dollar was designed by Anthony De Francisci, a New York sculptor, who competed with seven other artists. The designs submitted were gone over by the fine arts commission.

On the back of the coin is to be an eagle standing on a mountain top. Near the eagle is a broken sword, signifying disarmament, and an olive branch of peace. Back of the mountain can be seen the first rays of the bursting sun of a new era. On the front is to be a new head of the Goddess of Liberty with the familiar words "In God We Trust."

summer, at the railway station, volunteered to carry their luggage and has since attached himself as handy man about the house, to do the many errands necessary to the complicated existence of Soviet life. Miss Irma, who is of German origin, has been with Isadora Duncan since a child. She also is a dancer.

FARM PRODUCTS, $127,793,000

Surratt Shows Huge Total of Wealth Produced in State

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 16.—The total farm value of North Dakota's field crop production for 1921, was $127,793,000, compared to $207,989,000 in 1920; $330,157,000 in 1919; $332,238,000 in 1918 and $220,315,000 in 1917, according to the December report of A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician of the United States bureau of markets and crop estimates for North Dakota.

Potatoes lead with tame hay second, and corn third in the production value per acre for 1921. The total acreage of the principal cultivated crops in this state for 1921 is placed at 15,489,000 acres or 2.2 per cent less than the total of 15,822,000 acres in 1920, and 7.2 per cent less than the 1919 acreage of 16,678,000 acres, but 36.6 per cent greater than the census acreage for 1910 of 11,334,000 acres. Barley, corn, oats, potatoes and tame hay acreages were increased and the acreages for other crops show a decrease from that of 1920. From a percentage basis the potato acreage shows the heaviest increase and flax the greatest decrease in acreages of all crops in 1921. The reduction in wheat, rye and flax acreage largely accounts for the decrease in the total cultivated acreage in 1921.

Hunt $800.00 Item In Creamery Fund

The manner in which the amount of $800 was expended in the Werner experimental creamery is the subject of a merry chase now by accountants and employees of the office of Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor J. A. Kitchen.

Accountants reported that the creamery bank balance showed $800 had been paid out without any record on the books to show where the money went. Commissioner Kitchen, after some difficulty, learned that the former manager of the creamery now is in Chicago, and he has written to him for an explanation.

TAX OFFICIALS HAVE HAD HARD TIME OF LATE

Declining Prices Have Been The Cause For Much of The Criticism

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 16.—The fiscal year 1920-21 presented to the state tax commission many problems and conditions resulting from the era of declining prices, which made it extremely difficult for the commission to properly equalize the various classes of property, and establish a fair and just value so that all taxpayers would pay proportionately to the value of their property, says the annual report of the commission, now off the press.

"No doubt some criticism has been directed at county boards and at the tax commission," the report says, "for making substantial raises in the assessed valuation of certain classes of property; but this has in each case been done with a view to proper equalization."

Examination of abstracts and assessments from some counties revealed by increased county boards of equalization as high as 300 to 400 per cent, the commission says. "In each case where phenomenal raises of this kind have been made, we have investigated and have found them fully justified."

Commends County Boards The commission commends the county boards for their equalization work last year because they "exercised greater care than has formerly been the case."

It is pointed out that there was a wide range in the assessed valuation of livestock which is attributed in part to the way different assessors viewed the effect of market prices and in part to the condition of the money market on livestock generally, at or about the time for fixing value for taxation purposes.

"It was thought by many taxing officials, prior to the date for making an assessment of property for taxation, that an average of $45 per head, would fairly represent the value of cows and that $6 per head would be about right value for sheep," the report states. "However, it was found by state equalization that these two classes of property must stand finally equalized at $40.53 and $4.71 respectively."

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do what calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

lively which we believe was more nearly their correct value on May 1.

"The cry is going up from all parts of the state on account of high taxes. The burden of taxation is keenly felt, not only from the fact that taxes are extremely high, due largely to increased local levies, but from the fact that any demand for the payment of an obligation under present conditions is a burden.

MINOT TO AID BUYING OF COWS

Commercial Association Discusses Proposal

Minot, N. D., Jan. 16.—The board of directors of the Minot Association of Commerce at the weekly meeting, expressed itself as willing to co-operate with the banks and County Agent John Husby in interesting farmers of the Minot section and the northwest in general in the proposition of bringing dairy cows here with a view to building up the dairy industry in this section of the state.

All of the Minot banks have expressed a willingness to back the proposition financially, and the Association of Commerce will offer its rooms for the meeting to be held here January 20, at which time farmers, dairymen and bankers will discuss the advisability of having a carload of dairy cows shipped to Minot and distributed throughout this territory.

It is the general opinion, it is stated, that the farmers of this section will be more than willing to go into such a venture, and when they are promised the financial backing of the banks, it will make the enterprise doubly popular.

County Agent Husby has cited one instance of a farmer in Ward county who has only two dairy cows on his farm. Although his family is small, the farmer states that the revenue from the sale of milk and cream from the two cows is enough to provide the groceries and other small necessities of the family, and thus living expenses are greatly reduced.

NEWBERRY DECISION

While campaign methods used in the Newberry-Ford contest on both sides were reprehensible in many instances, it has not been shown that more money was spent in behalf of Newberry than was used by the Ford backers. In fact Ford had the Democratic national machine behind him spending money and lending assistance in various ways. His election meant much to President Wilson and the fate of the Versailles treaty. Much of the storm of fury that broke about Newberry's head was caused by the Democrats who knew what a Ford victory meant to their party's future. The few Republicans including the junior senator from this state who joined the Democrats were doubtless sincere in their conviction that Newberry should be unseated.

An impartial survey of the Michigan situation proves that both factions went the limit to put their men over. The expose should have a salutary effect upon political practices, but there was so much hypocrisy and cheap cant on the part of Newberry's persecutors that the contest on the seat narrowed down almost to a party issue—a few recalcitrant Republicans joining the Democrats whose chief desire was not to purge the senate but to stir up trouble in the ranks of the majority.

If those persons who ever wore a "We Stick Button" or subscribed to the league program in the heyday of its power are to be read out of active politics—there will be some familiar names missing in North Dakota's political news and comment.

"PEPPING" UP BUSINESS

Rotary clubs act as dynamos, stirring up communities and dispelling the spirit of pessimism and despair. The New York Rotary club is engaged in a very worthy enterprise which has for its purpose the creation of a more wholesome atmosphere in business. Considerable of the business depression is psychological. There is nothing so bad but that wrong thinking can make it worse. Realizing that business can easily slip into a rut, the Rotary clubs are acting as a unit in the publicity drive to "pep" up business.

President Harding opened the campaign with a message over his own signature that has been placed on billboards throughout the nation. Publishing houses, advertising agencies, newspapers and business houses have donated their services and merchandise to make the campaign effective.

The Tribune reproduced one of the advertisements last week and will print several more in the campaign of cheerfulness. Drawings in this series are from the pen of Cesare, famous illustrator of the New York Times and who until recently did cartoon work for the New York Sun and Post. The Frank Presbury Agency has written the copy which has a very potent appeal at this time.

Businessmen are urged to read these advertisements. Absorb their spirit and carry it into every day transactions. You will be surprised how far you can radiate a cheerful, sane optimism. Some one has said of the value of a smile in business: "It's worth a million dollars and does not cost a cent."

If George M. Young gets a life job on the United States court of claims there will be a lively scramble for his seat in Congress. Thomas Hall and George Young have a faculty of holding their jobs when once elected. If these two men square off in a contest for the same seat in Congress, it will be a pretty contest.

BOOM

Stanley Q. Grady reports that business has been better in his industry in the last five months than in 12 months of any previous year.

He is sales manager of the California Associated Raisin Company of Fresno.

If some of the brains, now being applied to home made hooch, could be shifted to business problems, returning prosperity might throw away its crutches.

As the primary campaign progresses, it would seem in view of recent alignments, that there are a number of political leaders who today resplendent in new political garb are perfectly willing to forget the past. Yea verily not only leaders, but men who aspire to succeed themselves in office or climb into new positions of dignity and emolument, are anxious to turn their backs upon the dark and ugly past when the league could do no wrong.

THE INVISIBLE

Ten million letters were carried by the air mail in the last three months. That's at the rate of 40,000,000 letters a year.

The cost of carrying a ton of mail by flying machine average $8 a mile in 1920. It was cut to $6 a mile in 1921. The cost soon will be down to $2.60 a mile, due to improved airplanes now being put in use.

The postoffice, which started the air mail service as an experiment in May, 1918, is the first to prove the commercial value of the flying machine.

It requires no stretching of the imagination to picture all mail being carried by the air route. That may come within five years.

Someone has made the prediction that in a few years mail will be carried by invisible postmen. Letters and parcels will be loaded into airplanes controlled by wireless.

The airplanes, with nobody aboard, will rise into the air at, say, New York, fly like an arrow and land in San Francisco, operated and steered by wireless.

Important experiments along this line have just been successfully completed in France. Wireless-controlled airplanes, without crews, were kept in the air for an hour and navigated about as easily as if a pilot were aboard.

The wireless-controlled airplane shows how man is conquering the invisible. It is millions of times more wonderful than the Hindu fakir's trick of moving small objects without touching them—as the fakir put it, power of mind over matter.

The wireless is man's most uncanny invention. It may also develop into his most important.

Many now living may see the day when the sky will be dotted with swarms of crewless airplanes, controlled by wireless and getting their motive power by wireless, carrying mail, express, passengers and even freight.

We are on the threshold of an age which will be almost supernatural in its wonders. The whole form of civilization, including all ways of doing things, will soon be transformed by the magicians of science.

BREAD

A big eastern chain store system cut the price of bread to 5 cents for a 16-ounce loaf.

This probably is prophetic of further cuts in the general cost of living.

So go wheat and bread, the staff of life, so go all prices. The stomach regulates all economics.

Some of the state papers are starting to classify all politicians who have ever trained with the league or formed alliances with them as "undesirables." Even suspicion of an alliance, in one correspondent's estimation, will be sufficient cause for political isolation. If the rule is adhered to, many prospective candidates will be scratched before the opening gun is fired. Let us watch the sanctified ones, who are without sin, throw the first stone.

John Andrews, editor of the Courier-News, is having lots of fun these days. Few men know North Dakota politics better. He has been in the thick of most battles during the last twenty years. As editor of the Lidgetwood Broadaxe, he supported the insurgent wing of the Republican party. Later he was Thomas Hall's deputy and a bitter opponent of the Stewart faction.

He drifted into the league movement a few years ago. Andrews knows the curves of North Dakota politics and wields a nasty pen when he wants to.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

FINANCIAL MIRACLES

According to an announcement by the farmers' national council, which is working in Washington for the re-establishment of the United States Grain corporation and a government guarantee to the farmer of $2.50 per bushel for his wheat, the standard 14-ounce loaf of bread can profitably be sold for 5 cents if farmers get $2.50 for their wheat simply by preventing profiteering by those who operate between the farmer and the consumer of wheat products.

Here is an alluring prospect. Nobody begrudges the farmer $2.50 for his wheat. Nor would anyone object to 14 ounces of bread for a nickel. However, before endorsing the plan too enthusiastically it is well to remember that there are only sixty pounds of wheat in a bushel when it starts for market, with a very material shrinkage by the time it is turned into flour ready for the baker. Even on the original estimate, there would be but sixty-eight fourteen-ounce loaves, retailing for $3.40, from which must be subtracted $2.50, the farmer's share of the transaction. Surely, under such an arrangement there would be little grounds for an accusation of profiteering at least so far the middleman and the baker and the others concerned in the transformation of wheat into bread was concerned. — Detroit Free Press.

WELL DONE, GOOD AND FAITHFUL SERVANT

VACATION EVERY 100 YEARS; SHE'S SATISFIED WITH IT

By NEA Service
Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 13.—A vacation every 100 years.
That's often enough, Mrs. Emma McMahon of this city "allows."
She is celebrating her one hundredth birthday anniversary by taking her first vacation.
Her last bit of work was the making of six pairs of trousers at the Kansas City Custom Garment factory. She drew her pay check of $24 and now plans to keep house for her son until spring.
Then, back to work!
"A body needs to lay off for a breathin' spell every century or so," says Mrs. McMahon.
"Grandma," as folks call her, has had an adventurous life. Her father, an English sea captain, fought in the Revolutionary War against the United States. Then he brought her to this country when she was 18 months old and settled near what is now Milwaukee.
She lived in Chicago when the latter was a white outpost and Indians and buffaloes prowled about. She was captured by the Indians at the age of 3-1-2 years and kept until she was 7.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts
As before, the little apple-tree elevator stopped when it had gone a certain distance up into the sky high over the tree-tops, and the three passengers got out.
"Here we are," said Buskins. "This is Emptyland, kiddies. Not much to see today because we fairies cleaned it all out yesterday, but I thought that you'd like to come anyway. This is where all the things blow to when there is a big tornado down on the earth. You often hear how things are blown away and never heard of again, don't you? Well this is the place they come to, sort of a storage house to keep them in until we fairies can return them to their owners."
"It doesn't look like a house," said Nick looking round. "It looks more like the country in my fairytale book where the Giant lived, at the top of Jack's beanstalk."
"So it is," said Buskins. "It isn't a house at all. I should have said 'store-place' or 'store-land.' My mistake! But, goodness me, what's that? Where's that great roaring coming from?" He had to shout it, for the sound had suddenly become so loud that it drowned every other noise.
Buskins put his ear to the ground. "Yes, sir, that's it," he shouted. "Old Whizzy Tornado is loose down on the earth again and he's making things fly. Now watch out, children, they'll be here soon," he warned, holding up a hand.
"Who," shouted Nick.
"The things," answered the fairyman. "There, didn't I tell you? Suddenly there was a bang and a crash, and a large cork-store burst through the ground at their feet, his lids and legs flying in forty directions. He gave a great puff of black smoke, and then settled himself on the ground as though he'd never move again."

Collective Agreement Is To Be Abrogated

Stockholm, Jan. 16.—Efforts by employers in various trades to agree with their employees on a reduction of wages have failed. The employers notified trade unions comprising about 350,000 men that the collective agreement now in force would be abrogated in the building engineering, wood, iron and textile trades.
New collective agreements on the basis of reduced wages were offered but the unions declined a collective agreement. Manufacturers contend that present wages make it impossible for them to sell Swedish products abroad.

FIRST NATIONAL OF KILLDEER HAS NEW PRESIDENT

Killdeer, N. D., Jan. 16.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank, Tuesday, no changes were made except in the presidency. Rasmus Jensen succeeding M. S. Cuskelly. Mr. Cuskelly positively refused to continue longer in that capacity due to advancing age and a desire to rest from active responsibility. Mr. Cuskelly has been president of this institution since it was absorbed by the old Northwestern State directorate and held the same position with the latter during its existence. His ability, judgment and conservatism have in a great measure contributed to the upbuilding of this powerful institution. He and Mrs. Cuskelly will continue their residence in Dickinson.
The new president, Rasmus Jensen, is not only popular with the stockholders of the bank but with its patrons as well. He is a pioneer in this territory and well acquainted with its needs and resources. There is every confidence that he will bear the honor and responsibility of the new position with credit to himself, profit to the stockholders and satisfaction to the many patrons of the First National Bank of Killdeer.
W. L. Richards was added to the board of directors and will give it increased weight and wisdom.

"Tanlac showed beyond a doubt in my case that its big reputation is thoroughly deserved," said J. F. De Thorne, 408 Blair St., St. Paul, Minn., director of the American Tractor Co. "Rheumatism had me in its clutches for three years and during all that time, too, my stomach was all out of order. I ate just enough to keep going and was getting thinner and weaker every day.
"The biggest surprise of my life, and it certainly was a pleasant one, was the way Tanlac took hold of me and put my stomach in apple pie order. It just seemed to drive the rheumatism out of my system, too and today I am just like a different man in every way. I have picked up fourteen pounds in weight, can work all day long without getting tired and feel just fine all the time."

STORING SYSTEM WILL SAVE TIME

GARMENTS SHOULD BE MENDED

Department of Agriculture Suggests Inventory of Clothing Stored Away to Save Time in Locating Wearables.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Mother! I want my winter flannels. Where do you keep them? The insistent demand may be heard when the frosty mornings begin to be really nipping. And "mother" is called from the kitchen, or from bed, perhaps, to go suddenly up to a chilly attic and hunt through a collection of boxes and trunks, from the camphorous depths of which she will finally sort out enough underwear to clothe the family for the day. She always meant to get all the flannels in one place, but somehow it was never done.

Mend Before Putting Away.

If system was not followed in putting away last winter's clothes, it will soon become evident, when they are suddenly wanted, that much time could have been saved in the busy fall season by careful arrangement in the spring. As the thin summer wear retires and the heavier clothes appear, it is worth while to follow a systematic plan in disposing of it now. Everything should be darned and mended, and all buttons put on when the garments are stored this fall.

An inventory of the garments stored away is suggested by the United States Department of Agriculture—that is to say, information as to what and whose articles are stored, the condition of each, and an estimate as to what further use may be made of the article. Time is saved by collecting all the wearable garments for each person in separate boxes, plainly labeled as "Mary's summer dresses, good condition"; "Father's thin underwear, won't last all season"; "John's blouses, too small, use for William."

Should Johnny need one of those summer blouses by any chance during "Indian summer," it will not be necessary to go through half a dozen boxes and trunks to find it. Moreover, Johnny, rather than mother, can make the trip to the attic to find the waist. One mother put her clothes away labeled in the spring and then went for a family visit which stretched out to unexpected length in the fall. She was able to ask a neighbor to mail warm clothes to her. The neighbor selected the boxes without disturbing anything else in the attic and mailed them.

One box should receive garments requiring alteration or those whose only use is for making over. A slip pinned to each, suggesting the use intended will save much wondering a few months later. It is easy to forget that the white linen will do for Mary if trimmed with the old blue parts of another dress; a brief note will prevent such accidents as letting the children have those old blue pieces for their dolls.

If the individual boxes are used from year to year to put clothes away in, there may be kept in or near each one a small roll of mending pieces belonging to the person whose clothes are in the box.

Mark Contents of Box.
Millinery trimmings (feathers, ribbons, flowers, velvet pieces) should be stored, if in good condition, in a box by themselves, where they can be easily found if a hat must be unexpectedly refreshed. Laces of different kinds can be wound on cards or otherwise put away, so that a glance will make the right piece accessible. Lining materials and old dress foundations which have further uses are best collected by themselves. Each housekeeper must needs evolve her own system, but if she aims to arrange the family clothing and materials in storage so that everything is readily found when wanted she serves the double purpose of saving much time and keeping the storage room in good order.

By means of entertainments given by the school children of Minnesota, the American Legion Auxiliary of that state will be enabled to erect a building to care for destitute veterans on their discharge from hospitals.

Unemployed service men of Minneapolis have been organized by the American Legion posts there and are campaigning the city, selling handbags, automobile booster plates and similar articles bearing Legion sanction.

Jerked from his floor-bed by a rush of 50 proffered positions, a Kansas City former soldier has been able to support himself, his wife and five children. He had registered the previous day at the American Legion employment office.

Oscar E. Carlstrom, Alledo, Ill., new commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, was one of the committee of fifty A. E. F. men which started the American Legion in Paris in 1919. He is an adopted member of the G. A. R. of Illinois.

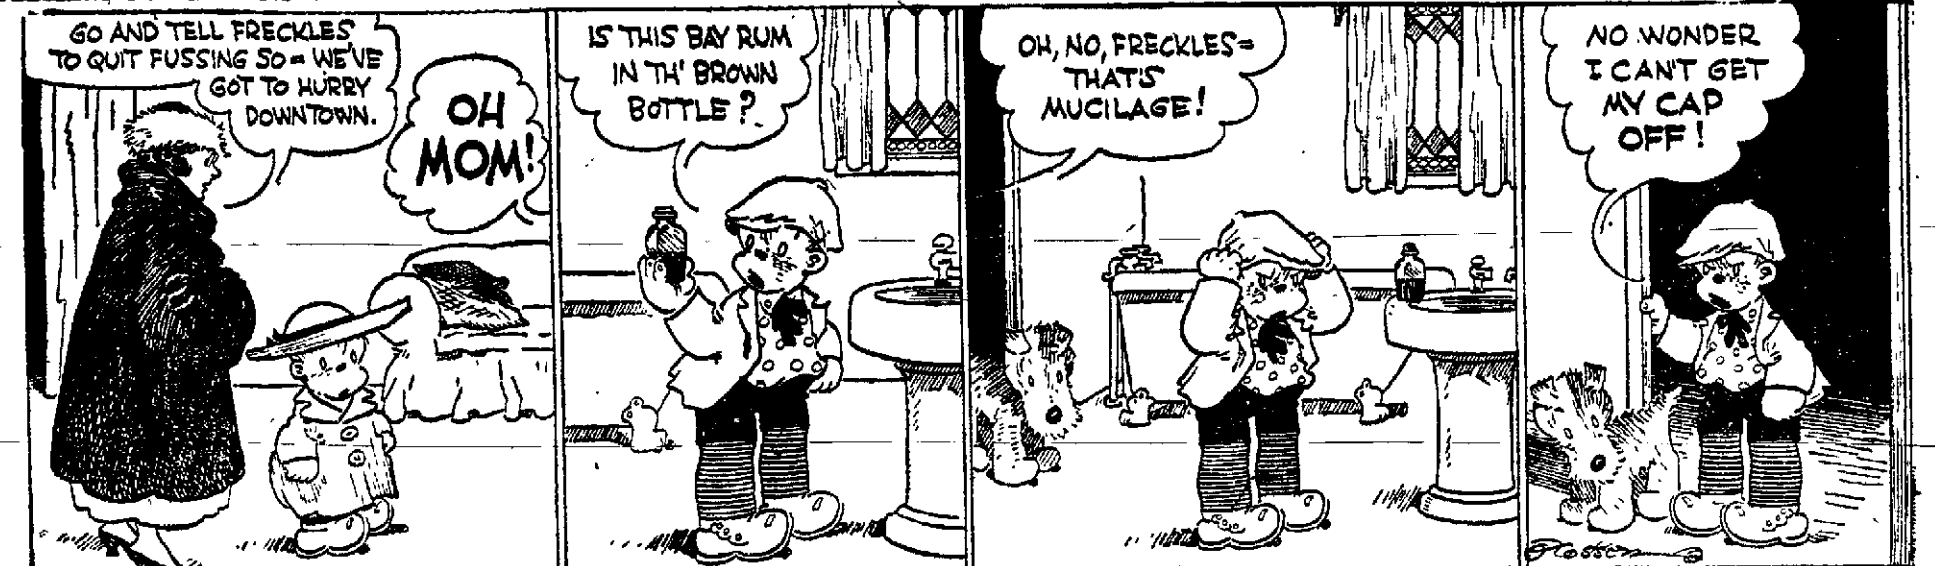

Feeling against Grover C. Bergdoll, slacker, was so high at the Missouri state convention of the American Legion that when it was announced that a motion was to be read about him it was passed by popular acclamation before even reading it.

Adjusted compensation will not be squandered by former service men, according to a Toledo (O.) newspaper. According to figures from a campaign, 176 want home aid, 88 want cash, 40 chose the certificate plan and 5 per cent want vocational training.

DEDICATION OF STATE CAPITOL 37 YEARS AGO

General Grant Attended Dedication of Bismarck as Territorial Capitol

Saturday, January 14, was the 37th anniversary of the dedication of the State capitol.

On January 14, 1885, 2,500 people of the Dakota territory gathered at the capitol grounds to attend the dedication ceremonies for the capitol building. All the state officials and many soldiers from Fort Lincoln attended the affair.

Governor Pierce was territorial Governor. The dedication took place when North and South Dakota were known as the Dakota territory. I. P. Hunt, father of Mrs. Richard Penwarden, of the city, was mayor of Bismarck at that time. General Grant was here for the occasion and made the principal address. A large number of Indian chiefs, including Sitting Bull, were also here.

Following the dedication a reception was held in the old House chamber. Supper was served later in the old Senate chamber. During the evening the crowd danced in the corridors. The Military Band from the fort furnished the music.

It was about 30 below zero the night of the reception.

DEBT FUNDING BILL APPROVED

Finance Committee of Senate Reports Favorably

Washington, Jan. 16. —With the provisions objected to by Secretary Mellon eliminated, the allied foreign debt refunding bill was favorably reported today to the senate by its finance committee.

Chairman McCumber said it was the purpose to press the measure for passage without waiting for the adjournment of the armament conference.

As forecast by Chairman McCumber last week no soldiers' bonus provision was added to the bill.

HEAVY RAINS CAUSE LIGHT IRRIGATION

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 16. —There was an ample supply of water on hand in the Belle Fourche irrigation project all during the last season, because of light irrigation resulting from excessive spring rains, according to the annual report of the secretary of the interior.

"Construction is under way of an extension of the project," the report says, "in the Willow Creek district." Drainage is badly needed in certain sections, but no work has been accomplished as arrangements have not yet been made for the repayment of the cost. Development was slow during the year owing to the financial depression and adverse market conditions, but on the whole the project is showing good results.

The Belle Fourche project is the only government irrigation undertaking in South Dakota. It consists of, according to the report, of 82,630 acres of irrigable land or which 59,850 acres were cropped in 1921. These 59,850 acres under cultivation produced last year crop valued at $837,200 or an average of $13.99 an acre.

Located on the project are five towns, having a total population of 2,350, or only about 300 less than the number of people living on the 1,021 irrigated farms in the district. There are 25 schools, nine churches and nine banks, which have a total of 6,500 depositors in the district. These banks have a total capital stock of $250,000 with deposits reaching $2,657,921.

ROYALTY CHOOSING PARTNERS?

Serbia's Young King May Marry Pretty French Princess.

Sophie

Paris, Jan. 16.—Reports that the young King Alexander of Yugoslavia is engaged to marry a French princess have persisted here not only during the King's recent long stay in Paris but since he returned to Belgrade. The identity of the reported fiancee of Serbia's King has been the subject of much speculation and gossip.

Society circles of Paris believe the most likely person to be the Princess Sophie of the House of Bourbon and Orleans, niece of King Albert of Belgium and a direct descendant of Louis Philippe. It is stated that the King spent a great deal of his time while in Paris in the company of the pretty princess, who is now 21 years old. Indeed, it was reported that the courtship had progressed so far that the French government was asked to use its good office in obtaining the Vatican's sanction of the marriage, as the Princess is a Catholic and the King of the Greek Orthodox faith.

The story goes that the French representative at Rome succeeded in getting the Pope to give his approval to the union. The conditions presented to and accepted by the Holy See were that the first male child of the union, if there were one, was for Serbian dynastic purposes, to be baptized in the Greek Orthodox faith, and that all the succeeding children were to be christened in the Roman Catholic church.

Shortly before the King left Paris, however, there were rumors that a hitch had arisen in the proposed marriage. It was said that while the Princess' family were anxious to have her wed the Yugoslav sovereign, the Princess herself was opposed to the union because she feared to live in the uncertain atmosphere of Belgrade with its terrorist plots and Communist activities.

She was afraid, it was reported, that she might meet the same fate as Queen Draga, who was cruelly murdered in the Serbian capital some years ago. In any case, King Alexander returned to Belgrade, and nothing definite has since been announced as to his matrimonial intentions or expectations.
